INSPIRATION OF THE COUNTY FAIR

By Peter Radford.

When you enter the agricultural department of the county fair, you feel your soul uplifted and your life takes on a new power—that is the inspiration of the soil. You are overpowered by the grandeur and magnificence of the scene—that is the spirit of the harvest. You can hear the voice of nature calling you back to the soil—that is opportunity knocking at your door. It is a good chance to spend a quiet hour in contact with the purity and perfection of nature and to sweeten your life with its fragrance, elevate your ideals with its beauty and expand your imagination with its power.

These products as food are fit for the gods, and as an article of commerce they ought to bring top prices on any market in the world.

The products of the soil are teachers and preachers as well. Their beauty gives human life its first entertainment, their perfection attracts the genius in artists; their purity furnishes models for growth of character and their marvelous achievements excite our curiosity and we inquire into the wonderful process of nature.

Before leaving the pavilion of agriculture where nature is parading in her most graceful attire and science is climbing the giddy heights of perfection, let us pause and take a retrospective view. How many of you know that after these wonderful products are raised, they can seldom be marketed at a profit? Take the blushing bluffs, for example—they were fed to the hogs by the overload last year. The nation's favorite vegetable—every year runs by the acre in the Southwest for want of a market and as a result thousands of farmers have lost their homes. Cotton—nature's capitalist—often goes begging on the market at less than cost of production.

It is great to wander through the exhibits while the hand is playing "Dixie" and to boast of the marvelous fertility of the soil and pride ourselves on our ability to master science, but it is also well to remember that there is a market side to agriculture that does not reflect its hardships in the exhibits at a county fair.

UNIVERSAL PEACE

This nation is now in the midst of a controversy as to how best to promote universal peace. That question we will leave for diplomats to discuss, but peace within nations is no less important than peace between nations and it is heavily laden with prosperity for every citizen within our commonwealth.

Many leading politicians and oftentimes political platforms have declared war upon business and as cabinet crisis after crisis, many men have stood in high places and hurled "gas bombs" at industry; thrust business into business enterprises and bombarded agriculture with indifference. Party leaders have many times broken diplomatic relations with industry; sent political agitators springing through the affairs of business, and political submarines have sent torpedoes crushing into the destiny of commerce. During the past quarter of a century we have fought many a duel with progress, permitted many politicians to carry on a guerrilla warfare against civilization and point a pistol at the heart of honest enterprise.

No man should be permitted to cry out for universal peace until his sword has been searched for explosives, for no vessel armed or laden with munitions of war should be given a clearance to sail for the port of Universal Peace. Let us by all means have peace, but peace, like charity should begin at home.

GRASPING AT THE SHADOW

No man—especially if he is married—would deny woman any right she demands. Take the earth and give us peace, but why does woman long for the ballot?

When all is said and done, is not the selection of the butcher more important to the home than the election of a mayor; is not the employment of the dairyman a far more important event in the life of the children than the appointment of a postmaster; is not the selection of books for the family library more important than voting bonds for jail and court house? Why does woman lay aside the important things in life? Why leave the substance and grasp at the shadow?

Be it said to the credit of womanhood that it is not, as a rule, the woman who rocks the cradle that wants to cast the ballot; it is not the mother who teaches her children to say "Now I lay me down to sleep" that harangues the populace; it is not the daughter who hopes to reign as queen over a happy home that longs for the uniform of the suffragette. It is, as a rule, the woman who despises her home, neglects her children and scorns motherhood that leads parades and smashes windows.

GORDON ORGANIZED LEVEE AND DRAINAGE DISTRICT

Will Protect His Farm and Neighboring Lands from Overflow.

John P. Gordon, state auditor, and neighboring farmers at Wainwright, Calhoun county, have organized a levee and drainage district to protect their lands from inundation. There are approximately 1,500 acres in the district. To construct the levee will cost, Gordon estimated, about $15 or $20 an acre.

He says they will bond their lands to raise the funds necessary to carry on the work. He believes this will be the beginning of extensive levee work along the Missouri river.

"When we levee our places," he said, "it will compel other farmers to do likewise."

Gordon says he has about 80 acres of the finest corn he ever saw grow. "The stalks are as big as my arm and the ears are going to be so high that I will have to get a stepladder to gather them."

He has about 80 acres of fine wheat during the high water.—Weekly Capital News.

MAY BE BEST MILK COW IN MISSOURI

Holstein in University of Missouri Dairy Herd Has Remarkable 3-Year Record.

What is believed to be the best three year milk record ever made by a Missouri cow has just been completed by Carlotta Pontiac, a Holstein, owned by the dairy department of the University of Missouri.

Carlotta Pontiac has made an average yearly production for these three years of 22,658 pounds of milk. During the last year she produced 21,743 pounds, the year previous 21,719 pounds, and 24,514 pounds the first year. Her first year's record is within a hundred pounds of the amount of milk given by the present holder of the world's record for butter production, a cow owned by a dairyman at Findern, New Jersey.

"This is a remarkable three-year record," said W. M. Regan, instructor in dairy husbandry, "and there is little doubt what it is the best ever made in the state."

The three years of butter production were as follows: 900 pounds the first year, 827 pounds the second year, and 777 pounds for the last year.

Carlotta Pontiac is 12 years old. She was bred and raised on the University farm.

HE SOON LEARNED HOW TO FARM IN CALIFORNIA

Louis L. Norton, who had been in the mercantile business "back East" for many years, came to Santa Clara County, Calif., four years ago, absolutely ignorant of farming. But he soon found that perseverance and pluck meant success. He has a fine fifteen-acre prune and apricot orchard that is bringing in over $2,500 a year and this year expects his land to net him over $150 an acre.

Are you doing as well? Are you clearing $150 an acre? If you want to know how Louis Norton succeeded, and how hundreds of others are succeeding in the beautiful Santa Clara Valley, get out your pen and paper and write us a letter right now. Don't put it off until you have forgotten it. Clip this advertisement and simply send us your name and address with it.
